Priority of funding

Priority of funding goes to those students who have a qualifying change of circumstance and have maximized all resources provided to them from Federal & Institutional sources. In the event that funds have not been exhausted on qualifying appeals, the College may evaluate request from families that present other circumstances or are experiencing a financial hardship.

Since funds are limited and can vary, appeal results may not meet a family's expectation or satisfy the bill. Families should keep in mind that Providence College cannot replace/supplement a family's contribution due to discretionary spending or choices.

Conditions that are not considered

Private school expenses (elementary/secondary), wedding or vacation costs, routine home maintenance, loss of merit scholarship and tax liens are conditions that the College will not entertain. In general, debt is not a qualifying condition. However, if you feel there is mitigating circumstances and would like the opportunity to provide additional details (about the debt or other conditions), use the space below. Submitting supporting documentation to strengthen your appeal is strongly encouraged.

Explanation of hardship*

Provide detailed synopsis of the hardship or why you are requesting additional funding. If more room needed attach a separate sheet of paper.

*You may be asked to complete an additional appeal form if your explanation above is better presented to us through one of our other appeal forms.
